An autistic person may:

- Avoid eye contact or display minimal or unusual eye contact.
- Behave in an unusual, inappropriate or unpredictable way when anxious, stressed, or confused.
- Find it difficult to cope in new and unfamiliar situations.
- Find it difficult to express emotions, feelings, and needs.
- Find it difficult to know how you are feeling and may seem insensitive, rude, or blunt.
- Not understand consequences of their actions or have no concept of danger.
- Dislike physical contact.
- Misinterpret verbal and non-verbal communications.
- Need extra time to process what is said to them.
- Seem argumentative, stubborn, extremely agitated, or over-compliant.

The Emergency Chat App is free to download. If you can't speak it helps by allowing text communication.

How you can help me

1. Remain calm; be patient, tolerant and understanding.
2. Address me by name each time you speak to me.
3. When in contact with the police autistic people are classed as vulnerable. They are entitled to an 'Appropriate Adult'. This could be my emergency contact from page 1.
4. Be aware your behaviour and language can be confusing to me.
5. Keep your language direct, concise and unambiguous.
6. Use short, single clause sentences and direct commands.
7. Ask one question at a time, and allow extra time for me to respond – at least 8-10 seconds before asking more.
8. Autistic people may have a different understanding of personal space: standing too close doesn't mean they are being confrontational, and standing at a distance doesn't mean they intend to flee.
9. Always explain what is happening, what will happen and why.
10. Be aware autistic people may carry an object for comfort to help manage stress & anxiety; removing it can cause extreme distress. Only remove it if essential.
11. Avoid physical touch unless essential for safety.
12. Be aware autistic people may not notice if they are injured, hungry or thirsty.
13. Autistic people can be sensitive to crowded noisy places, sudden/loud noises, touch, smell and lighting. Find the quietest, least busy, place possible; try to be reassuring.
14. Avoid sudden and unexpected changes.
15. Keep timings realistic and update any changes. Avoid being specific about timings; you may be taken literally and cause distress if you deviate from the time you have given.
